

Yaocalli Cambridge Certificate Recognition

Por: Luisa Rioseco

Cambridge ESOL is a branch of the prestigious University of Cambridge, England, whose mission is to offer a wide variety of high quality international exams for English learners.

On Monday February 26th, Dr. Michael Malinovic, Chief Executive of Cambridge ESOL, awarded our school with a certificate, recognizing it as one of the most important customers in Mexico in 2006.

Yaocalli School has been a British Council examination centre for the past 6 years. Command of the English language has become very important in our curricula, not only because it is a compulsory subject in the U.N.A.M. study program, but also because all of our students pursue enrollment in the most prestigious Mexican universities, where an upper-intermediate to advanced level command of the English language is required in order to graduate. Additionally, increasing number of students, go on to pursue graduate studies in foreign universities.

The Mexican labor market, on the other hand, also places a high importance on the command of English for most of the better employment opportunities.

To guarantee standards, it is necessary to be certified by a prestigious and internationally recognized examination organization. This is the main reason why we have chosen the Cambridge ESOL.

On preparing our students for Cambridge ESOL examinations, we have found a firm track to progressively tackle the understanding on how the language works and eventually become proficient in English, whatever the professional or study goals are.
